Bellport 7-0578

WHERE ARE WE GOING AS AUDIENCE IN BELLPORT THIS SEASON?

THE THEATRE: We sit around the arena on which will be imaged forth myriad scenes. Perhaps some will be quite familiar, some quite foreign, but all quite emphatic; some too emphatic. What is here painted, be it a sunlit penthouse apartment, a ranch on the broad expanse of the west, or the olive drab color of the office, each is distinct, each the picture of reality.

THE ACTORS on parade in these trappings represent ideas, colored, illumined, and objectified by playwright, director, and actor. These ideas conceived in thought have been born to that playwright who best sees the need for the fulfillment of these ideas. Victor Hugo once said "There is nothing in this world so powerful as an idea whose time has come".

THE IDEAS conceived in the minds of our playwrights today reflect, as they did through all ages, the life around them, and their comment on it. If this view is seen with a twinkle in the eye, the idea is called a comedy. If life presents problems unsurmountable by the human man, the idea becomes a drama, or even a tragedy. Ideas representing life in our theatre of 1957 show man as confused, jealous, frustrated, enigmatic, blind as a mortal seems to be, but on the whole, contented, seeking and able to get by with a smile and a song.

LANGUAGE used in today's theatre perhaps seems more coarse than usual, and character relations are exposed in not the most subtle manner. But one who knows theatre and history is aware that these same ideas have been expressed in a manner parallel to the times from Shakespeare on down. If we seem to be shocked by the mirror before us, let us do something to change the image before the glass.

GATEWAY THEATRE is Long Island's only arena summer theatre with a resident company of Equity players.

Each week Gateway's professional casts will portray the best to be found in to-day's contemporary classics, fresh from the pens of our most popular playwrights and successful Broadway openings.

In conjunction with the theatre Gateway conducts a nationally known Apprenticeship School and student workshop for non-professionals. Daily classes are conducted in all phases of drama and dance by Gateway's faculty of instructors. Student productions are given on July 28th and on August 24th and 25th to which the public is invited.

Gateway welcomes your support as a patron, actor, backstage worker, publicity or as a contributor to our prop and costume rooms—in the furtherance of our goal "Good theatre a cultural outlet".

MARY WOOLVERTON returns for a fourth glorious summer as one of Gateway's and the area's favorite character actresses. Receiving her professional rating at Gateway, Miss Woolverton starred as Laura Partridge in last season's hit SOLID GOLD CADILLAC. Her characterizations of Mrs. Watty in THE CORN IS GREEN, as Andree in GIGI and Ruth in BLYTHE SPIRIT, will be well remembered by Gateway theatre-goers. Before coming to Gateway she appeared at the Bolton Theatre in London and at the Hedgerow Theatre in Pennsylvania.

MILT COMMONS who was first seen at Gateway as the evil Mr. Snell in SOLID GOLD CADILLAC, which he also directed, reversed his field the next week to reappear as the benevolent Mr. Penny-packer. He continued with various states of pleasantness through RAINMAKER and SABRINA FAIR. Such drastic switches are consistent with the long series of roles ranging from the boy-next-door to a visitor-from-outer-space that Milt has played in his career. His stock credits range literally from Maine to California. In New York he has appeared at the Blackfriars Theatre, and for the past two winters has acted and directed for the Pittsburgh Miniature Theatre.

ABOUT THE PLAY.... George Axelrod, born in N. Y., is probably best known for THE SEVEN YEAR ITCH, his first Broadway comedy - which ran for almost 3 years, toured very successfully flowered in translations all over the world, and eventually was made into a movie. Since then his radio and television scripts have totaled more than 400.

"Mr. Axelrod's own antic off beat shrewdly in the know sense of humor keeps the quips smart and characters hep". - N. Y. Herald Tribune

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR:

Gigi Cascio makes his bow in Bellport this season after having worked with the Gilbert and Sullivan Repertory group at Mashpee on Cape Cod where he received critics-praise for his master's touch in directing and his excellent baritone voice, and sensitive comic portrayals.

DOREEN KENT - Blond beauty who stars in Rock Hunter has appeared with notables such as Edward Everitt Horton, Eddie Bracken, Eva Gabor, She has toured in Private Lives; has appeared in TV shows such as Montgomery Presents, Studio One and has done radio work in Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Kent who had her training at the Am. Academy of Dramatic Arts and studied with Herbert Berghof and Uta Hagen, has played in OH MEN OH WOMEN, HARVEY, CHAMPAGNE COMPLEX, and SEVEN YEAR ITCH, among others.

ROBERT DAYTON - also new to Gateway audiences hails from Texas. He has had off-broadway experience in the Originals Only Playhouse, New Lyceum Reb Co., Players Studio, Cherry Lane, Shakespeare Workshop. He appeared in summer stock in Duluth, Minn., and was on the road with the Texas Touring Theatre. Mr. Dayton has had TV experience in San Antonio, and Radio work in Austin, holder of a B. F. A. in Drama.

APPRENTICES IN GATEWAY THEATRE COMPANY:

Gene Hackman, Richard Herre, Ed Lyons, James Mills, Nina DePalma, Jackie Reading, Pati Judkoff, Don Goodyear, Howard Fales, Babs Engel, Toni Ortner, Ellen Kaplan, Nina Stein, Jeanne Paynter.

LIBBY GLENN comes to the Gateway stage with a wealth of experience and talent. At the Cleveland Playhouse, she appeared in SEVEN YEAR ITCH, BUS STOP, THE PONDER HEART, LA RONDE and GLASS MENAGERIE. She has been featured at the Barter Theatre, Houston Playhouse, Alley Theatre and The Chataqua Repertory Theatre appearing in such roles as Billie Dawn in BORN YESTERDAY, Liza in PYGMALION, Nina in THE SEAGULL and Celie in VOLPONE. She was educated at Wesleyan and Duke University.

RAY BARBATA will be remembered by Gateway audiences for his impressionable roles in TEA AND SYMPATHY, DIAL M FOR MURDER, SOLID GOLD CADILLAC, and TENDER TRAP. This is Mr. Barbata's fifth season of Summer Stock, having been with the Nisswa Summer Theatre in Minnesota for 2 seasons and with the Barn Theatre in Kalamazoo, Mich., where he scored in GUYS AND DOLLS and CAINE MUTINY. While in the Army, he played in a Signal Corps film and toured the U. S. and Canada in Special Service productions. During the past winter Ray has been active with the International Lyric Org., has appeared on Omnibus, and with Sibhan McKenna in ST. JOAN.
