Voted the No. 1 restaurant overall on LI, as well as No. 1 for Decor – devotees swear it could rival “the Palace of Versailles” – this “extravagant”, “elegant” and “exquisite” “crown jewel” boasts “gorgeous views” of Great South Bay from its “beautiful setting on the water” in Patchogue; indulge in “extraordinary”, “imaginative” New French cuisine “magnificently presented” by an “impeccable” staff; dip into the “kids’ college fund” or “mortgage the house” if you must, but it’s “worth every franc” for such an “incredible dining experience.”

A LETTER FROM THE PRODUCER

2002 We are proud to be Long Island's only professional musical theater, able to bring you top-notch entertainment right here in Suffolk County. We enjoy the continuing challenge of offering you the right mix of the latest Broadway releases and favorite classics, staged with the artistic flair you have come to expect from a Gateway show.

Since we are a regional theater, with employees representing four unions, we have the opportunity to hire actors and artistic staff with Broadway and National Tour experience. Forbidden Broadway was directed by Phil George, the co-director of the current Drama Desk Award-winning production now on Broadway, and also directed this production of Annie Get Your Gun. Ragtime featured five actors who have appeared in the Broadway productions of Grease, The Phantom Of The Opera, Titanic, Les Miserables, Saturday Night Fever, Ragtime, Chicago, and Miss Saigon, and our set and costumes were from the National Tour. We are keeping the details a secret, but our Jesus Christ Superstar will be a riveting, cutting edge production you'll just have to see for yourself - be prepared to be electrified! And Swing! will be directed by Charlie Marcus, who starred in the National Tour, and features other performers from the Broadway and National Tour casts.

This season, our 52nd, we are pleased to say that half of our productions are Long Island premieres - Forbidden Broadway, Ragtime, and Swing! It is a lot of fun for us to be the first theater on the Island to mount a production since the original on Broadway. We hope you like being able to see Broadway-caliber shows you may have missed on the Great White Way, or if you've seen it on Broadway, see it again in a fresh, new way. It is our pleasure and our privilege to bring you an enthralling entertainment experience. Enjoy the show!

Yours truly
Paul Allan

SPOTLIGHT ON IRVING BERLIN

The most successful songwriter of the 20th century was not Paul McCartney or Michael Jackson, but Irving Berlin. Born Israel Baline in Eastern Russia in 1888, one of eight children, his family fled the pogroms for the Lower East Side when he was five. Just 13 when his father died he began singing on the streets for pennies, and published his first song at 19. In 1911, the publications of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" launched a career that would eventually comprise more than 1000 songs including "White Christmas", "Puttin' On The Ritz", and "A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody"...although he never learned to read or write music!

Berlin married Dorothy Goetz in 1913, but sadly, she died soon after from typhoid contracted on their honeymoon in Cuba. Thirteen years later he would marry Ellin McKay, the daughter of Clarence McKay, the president of Postal Telegraph Company. A leader in the Roman Catholic community, Clarence McKay deeply opposed his daughter's marriage to a Jew. The Berlins, however, had a happy marriage that lasted more than 60 years (until Ellin's death in 1988) and produced three daughters.

When World War I broke out, Berlin was stationed here on Long Island at the former Camp Upton (now the site of the Brookhaven National Laboratory) where he wrote the musical, Yip Yip Yaphank introducing the song, "Oh, How I Hate To Get Up In The Morning". The musical raised $150,000, which bought Camp Upton a new service center.

Berlin wholeheartedly embraced his adopted country and composed many patriotic songs, most notably, "God Bless America" written for Armistice Day in 1939. After September 11, the song became a grassroots anthem for Americans all over again, especially in baseball stadiums. The 62 year old recording by Kate Smith, wildly popular in its day, was the one chosen last year by Yankee Stadium to be played during the seventh inning stretch. Berlin assigned the copyright for the song to the God Bless America Fund raising millions of dollars for the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. He was recognized for his loyalty to the United States by three presidents, receiving the Army's Medal of Merit in 1945 from President Truman, the Congressional Gold Medal in 1955 from President Eisenhower, and the Freedom Medal in 1977 from President Ford. His doughboy uniform and many original scores of his patriotic songs are now on display in The Jewish War Veterans Museum in Washington, DC.

One of the few composers who wrote both lyrics and music, his incredible career encompassed the creation of his own music publishing company and co-founding of ASCAP. He wrote 17 complete musicals including the phenomenally successful Annie Get Your Gun and contributed material to six more, as well as wrote songs and scores for dozens of movies starting with the first talkie "The Jazz Singer". His professional awards included a special Tony Award in 1963 and the Academy Award for Best Song ("White Christmas") in 1942. Fellow songwriter Jerome Kern said, "Irving Berlin has no place in American music. He is American music."

Irving Berlin's centennial was an international event - a benefit concert at Carnegie Hall featuring such luminaries as Isaac Stern, Leonard Bernstein and Frank Sinatra - the telecast of which won an Emmy Award for CBS. It was Berlin's last public appearance. He died the following year in his sleep, at home in New York City, at the age of 101.

His recent credits include: Red, Hot and Blue (Paper Mill and Goodspeed), Lady Be Good (Connecticut Rep), and Crazy for You (all over the place!). Other recent theater credits: Carousel (Carnival Boy), Best Foot Forward (Goofy), A Chorus Line (Paul), The Wiz (Tinman), Once on this Island (Daniel). Currently, he is working on a workshop with Barbara Siman and Charles Strouse.

CHANDRA LEE SCHWARTZ (Ensemble, u/s Annie) loves the stage and is lucky to have the unconditional love and support of her family and friends. Chandra was seen earlier this season in Forbidden Broadway. A graduate this year of the American Musical and Dramatic Academy, Chandra has since understudied Forbidden Broadway at the Carousel Dinner Theatre in Ohio and toured with StorySalad Productions. Thanks to Gateway for the amazing experience, it is truly a magical place to be.

MICHAEL SHELLE (Sitting Bull). After a career in education, Mr. Shelle followed his passion for acting and singing, and has since played principal and leading roles in dozens of shows in New York and regionally, including the First National Tour of Titanic; Richard Harris’ International Tour of Camelot; Time Slips; Code of the West; Beyond the Horizon; A Man for All Seasons; Our Town; The Sisters Rosensweig; Shenandoah; The Most Happy Fella; South Pacific; Brigadoon; 1776; She Loves Me; The Rothschilds; Radio City Christmas Show; Captains Courageous; Fiddler on the Roof; Zombies from the Beyond (critically acclaimed off-Broadway show and CD); and on TV on “Seventh Heaven,” “Law and Order,” “The Guiding Light,” “All My Children,” and on film: Kate and Leopold, starring Meg Ryan and Hugh Jackman.

PAUL ALLAN (Producer) Annie Get Your Gun marks Paul’s 136th production at this theater. Having grown up in the theatrical family that started Gateway, Paul has been involved in theater from an early age. In addition to his work here, Paul co-founded a successful touring company mounting over 23 productions in countries as far away as Taiwan and Korea. He even spent some time “on the road” driving the rigs that haul the scenery and props, and as Technical Director. Paul has also been the show carpenter for several off-Broadway shows. Recently, Paul acted as consultant and advisor on the restoration and renovation of the Patchogue Theatre, which, under Gateway’s control, reopened in 1998 with Nutcracker On Ice and was followed by over 150 shows, concerts, and other
